There can be no room for doubt that CHANG Taotai was well posted, and knew not only the temper of the mob, but also what it intended to do. Unlike the Chehsien, who harangued the rioters, at some peril to himself, and did his utmost, with his very limited powers, to stop the work of destruction, the Taotai remained in his yamen and took no steps to send troops to check the course of the riot. been sacrificed he would have been responsible for them. It will, as we have said, be a most explicit proof of the complicity of the Peking Government in these outrages, if they restore this man Chang to the position he has so Foully abused. If he had been guilty of nothing more than incapacity, his restoration would be most unjustifiable, but when, as in this case, it is evident the man was in sympathy with the rioters, it is nothing short of an insult- to and defiance of the Treaty sincerely to be hoped that the Foreign Ministers Will not quietly submit to this which is the first outcome of the fatuous abandonment of their demand for satisfaction for the outrages and murders committed. It was predicted at the time that something of the sort would result so soon as the first excitement had subsided, unless the Treaty Powers insisted on their first demands being conceded. To retreat from a position once taken up in negotiating with China is more disastrons than the loss of a battle in the field, for it is interpreted at once as a confession of weak ness, and is so acted upon. The Peking Government have noted the gradual dissolution of the concert, and they have arrived at the conclusion—only too safe an one it is to be feared-that they can now venture to refuse any demand so long as no further hostile demonstrations against the missionaries are permitted for the present. Acnality of PENNSYLVANIAN TOBACCO cordingly they have laid stringent orders LEAF, are mild, well matered, of excellent the provincial mandarine that there are be no more outbreaks against the foreigners and these will be obeyed. The Rat's Plaint; An Old Legend. Translated from the Original Chinese by ARCHIBALD LITTLE, F.R.G.S. T. Hasegawa: 10, Siyoshioho, Tokyo. Kelly and Walsh : Shanghal. Hongkong, and Yokohama.

This is a most entertaining little legend, clothed by the translator in a pleasing English dress, which, as he romarks, in his short preface, will be more welcome to the general reader than a word-for-word translation from the original-Mr. Little tells us he bought his copy of "The Rat's Plaint" at a bookstall at Ichang for lid. Powers to return him to his position. It is and it does truly give some interesting and effective pictores of Chinese social life which will be new to many readers, quite apart from its humorous side, which is unmistakable. The Western youth will greatly approciate this addition to juventle literature and will fully enter into the fan of it. It is beautifully printed on Japanese upper and in Japanese style, and the coloured illustrations are quaint and artistic. The little work will prove a most goentable present to the numerous boys and girls in England who have friends in the Far East, and by whom it is pretty sure to be in demand as a

THE LOSS OF THE " NAMCHOW."

. OVER 400 LIVES LOST. Late on Tuesday evening Messrs. Bon Moh Cupobi Point by the Mesfoo. We are informed by them that the captain of the Namto Admiral Richards was as follows :- "Swatow. 12th January .- Nanichow sunk, 50 Chinese saved arrived here, 424 drowned." If the numbers given by the agents are correct it will be seen that the loss of life has been somewhat understated in the telegram to the Admiral,

The fifty who were saved were all natives. The Turopeans on board comprised the Captain, two officers, and three engineers. The Chinese saved were rescued by fishing junks and put on shore. They then proceeded to walk to Swatow, which port was reached on Thesday. Of the fifty saved 46 were passengers and four belonged to the ship. At present nothing definite is known as to hew the terrible catastrophe occurred. Many thankes have been put forward conjecture until the arrival of one of the coast. ing steamers from Swatow. The names of the European officers lost are :- Alexander Leo, for the witnesses to come at two o'clook. Captain; J. Kelly, chief officer; W. Originally she was called the Vlaaderen, and has had quite a number of names since, viz., Ana de Sala. Namchow. She came out to Hengkong originally, we believe, in connection with the Pernvian coolin trade, in which she made several voyages, Her last owners, a Chinese firm at Penang, acquired her a few years ago and she has since been running between the Straits and Swatow, calling at Hongkeng. She used to dock and much is known locally of her condition. It is said that when she was light her engines were given to racing, and it is surmised that an uccident in cornection with her engines may have been the cause of the frightful disaster by

When the scene of the cutbreak was reached it was found that the top floors of the building and of the two adjoining houses, Nos. 144 and 148, were enveloped in flame and were already at the mercy of the element. All three houses, it may be montioned, are owned by the same man. The efforts of the brigade were successfully directed to checking the advance of the conflagration, and about six o'clock upon the buildings are for substantial sums. No.

The Daily Chronicle hears on good authority | Engineers:that, after consultation with the Lord Chancellor and the Lord Chief Justice, the Government has decided to introduce a bill next Session recasting the whole law of evidence. Its most popular feature will be a clause allowing accused persons in criminal trials to give evidence on their own behalf. As the chief obstacles to this change have up till now been raised by the Irish magistracy, it may be taken that for this, among other practical reforms, we are indirectly indebted to the Balfourian policy which has evolved Hibernia Pacata.

LONDON. 14th Decombar. The ship Enterkin, 1698 tons, bound from Hull for Brisbane, has been wrecked off Ramsgate. Thirty lives were lost.

The ship Enterkin, which has been totally wrecked off Ramsgate while on the voyage from Glasgow to Brisbane, was fully insured. The ill-fated vessel, which was laden with a cargo of iron, went ashore during a heavy gale on Saturday night. Only one person was saved, viz., the thip's apprentice, who, when rescued, was lashed to the rigging: 15th December.

Farther details of the wreck of the Enterkin state that the lifeboat was slove in, most of the crew boing distanced. Three men and the approntice, who were left clinging to the damaged boat, were washed off. The three hands were drowned, the apprentice alone regaining the ship. Captain Sinclair, the master of the Enterkin. was suffering from influenza prior to the sailing of the vessel, and had to remain behind. His place was taken by Captain Stephenson, who was in command at the time the Enterkin was wrecked. London, 15th December. Two saflors belonging to the wrecked ship

Enterlyin have been resound in the Channel. LONDON, 17th December. The steamer Prince Soltukoff has been wreaked off Brest. Eighteen persons were drowned. AFFAIRS IN CHILL

LONDON. 16th December. There is a revival of popular excitement in Chili, owing to the aggressive attitude of Mr. Patrick Egan, the United States Minister, towards the Chilian Government. Longon, 21st December.

Chill has settled the claims of Germany and Sweden for compensation for loss of property sustained by subjects of those countries during the late civil war in Chili. It is believed that in the event of the Chilian Government being involved in hostilities with the United States, arising out of the recent asment of the United States will purchase the Pacific steamships Zealandia, Australia, Mari-

Steamship Company of San Francisco, to serve as transports, and as part of the coast defence. London, 22nd December. The friction between the Chillan Cabinet and Mr. P. Egan, United States Minister, is increasing. At attempt made to arrest Mr. Egan's son was unsuccessful.

The French population of Quebec is much exnited and threatens a disruption of the Confederation. This threat is, however, regarded by a majority of the populace as electioncering bounce, LONDON, 22nd December. M. Boucherville has formed a Couservative Ministry in Quebec in place of the Mercier Administration, which was dismissed by the Lieutenant-Governor, the A. R. Augers. THE NEW SOUTH WALES TREASURY BILLS. LONDON, 16th December. The announcement that New South Wales proposes to raise money by Treasury bills so soon after the issue of the late loan has caused aurprise in the city. It was expected in financial quarters that the colony would be prepared to reply upon local sources for such additional assistance as it needed. It is the opinion of some authorities that £2,000,000 for Treasury bills might be easily obtained in two years at 42 per cent., other leans of the colony ceasing meanwhile. This would aspecially be the case if the money market continues in its present state. Present bondholders, however, complain that the issue of Treasury bills will depreciate the value of the stocks which they hold. LONDON, 17th December. Opinion in the city is opposed to the contemplated large simultaneous issues of Treasury bills by the Australian colonies. Stockholders complain that the issue i cruelly unjust, as it destroys their chance of realising without loss. The application of Victoria for similar accommodation has altered the market for the worse. Bankers incline to the opinion that the public announcements of these issues are prejudicial. They would recommend that the bills be issued Old Malwa...... $520 privately and gradually through banks, so that Older Malwa $590 ionly such amount as is found necessary for immediate wants should be raised. They consider | Patna (New) $4974 it imperative that purchasers should be secured | Patna (Old) $505 44 per cent, on their investments.

It is believed that Tasmania also contemplates | Benares (Old) $485 a further issue of Treasury bills to the amount LONDON, 18th December.

London bankers profess themselves staugered at the combined colonies asking for over eight millions upon Treasury bills, and the applications are regarded as virtually now loans. The bankers are unabla to understand why 41 per cont. interest does not attract local investors to take a portion of the issue. It is feared that holders of existing Australian stocks will sell out such amounts as they own. and reinvest in the new bills, for the sake of the increased interest. If this is done, the old stock will thereby be largely depreciated for years. The suggestion made during the present year, that bondholders and investors in Australian Government securities should meet and denounce the excessive borrowing now being resorted to Victoria Peak.... by the colonies, has been revived. Public opinion expenditure on public works. . A leading banking anthority asserts that
